Going To School Is Fun

9. Scared

Going to school with friends is fun. Is it not? But sometimes when there are too many kids in the Auto Rickshaw, you may feel scared.

Coming back from school with friends is fun too. But sometimes when there are too many kids in the Rickshaw, you may feel scared or afraid.

Remember, it is OK to be scared but you should always tell your trusted and loved ones about what happened in the rickshaw. They will help you to be safe and happy.

We must always tell about what we did

At times even grown-ups feel scared. It is OK to be afraid. But it is not OK when you are scared and you do not tell your loved and trusted ones. It can be scary when someone gives us an unsafe touch or look. It can be even scarier to say, "No!" to that person. But we have to say, "No!" to the person making us uncomfortable. Telling a trusted grown-up can also be scary but telling is the right thing to do.

Tell Your Best Friend Pocso What Or Who You Are Afraid Of:

It is OK to feel scared. It helps us to stay safe.
It is brave to tell when you are afraid or scared.

Sana is scared when people she does not know try to hug or kiss her, so she only meets them when she is with grown-ups she trust. Also, she stands far from them when she meets them.

Pocso feels scared when he is watching ghost movies. He watches cartoons that do not have ghosts.

You must always tell if you are uncomfortable.
